

PET FAIR EXTRAVAGANZA

COURTESY PHOTOS

Last Saturday, a pet fair extravaganza to benefit Buddy Dog Humane Society took place at Vetcision's 24-hr. animal hospital, 293 Second Avenue, Waltham. "Even though attendance could have been better, the fair was a success in terms of people enjoying themselves, while coming out to support a cause they believe in," said Dalana Bewley, event coordinator. From left to right, a black Newfoundland attendee, one of the dog demonstrators, and a sheepdog.

www.dailynewtribune.com

LOCAL

PHOTO BY JOHN TARANTINO

DOG DAY Rob Belhumer of Westborough talks with his dog during Saturday's Vetcision pet fair in Waltham.

PHOTO BY JOHN TARANTINO

PLAYING CATCH

Bridget Desroches a volunteer at the pet fair held by Vetcision, a veterinary specialty care facility in Waltham shows off some of the Frisbee training that she does in a demonstration with her border collie Zydeco. Proceeds from the event, held Saturday, benefited the Buddy Dog Humane Society in Sudbury. (See more photos on page 15)

